

Pope Francis' Abomination of Desolation Ruling on Same-Sex Couples part 2

Good morning! I want to follow up on a video I made earlier from the airport. If you've not seen it, it's on my timeline on Facebook and it has been shared over 500 times today, with 70,000 views today. The reason I'm following up on it is because all my Catholic friends feel the need to set me straight, so let's deal with that real quick. I want to see who's right, me or them; see who can sing I Told You So, me or them. Let's dive right in.

This morning I reported that the Abomination of Desolation, which is a euphemism for a horrible desecration of the Temple of God, had been committed today (12/18/23) by the Roman Catholic Church, especially His Holiness, Pope Francis. Nevertheless, I reported that Pope Francis had approved, given a blessing and said the priests of the church can now bless what Yahweh has cursed. As soon as I made that video and it started going semi-viral, I'm being attacked by Catholics everywhere, that I got it wrong and I lied about the Pope. So we're going to find out if I did.

The reason they're saying I got it wrong is because I said that the Catholic Church was putting a blessing on same-sex marriages. They're all telling me, "No, no, no. He didn't say marriages, he said same-sex couples." I say to all of you, "Right, but those same-sex couples are what? Married; by the state, most of them. So if you are blessing a same-sex couple, you are blessing and sanctifying same sex marriage." See, you can play on words all day long, but some of us are not dumb. I know you want us to be, but when an ace is an ace, a spade is a spade.

If you'll remember, about a month ago the Roman Catholic Church said gay couples could come to baptisms and they could be godparents, but they could not be blessed by the Church. I told you when that happened to watch what is coming next, and sure enough, today it came. I Told You So. It came today and you can be sure that same-sex marriage is not far behind. So let me go and pull up the article and see if I got it wrong. Let's just look and see. This is from Reuters News, the same newspaper that wrote an article about Professor Toto. The headline says, Vatican approves blessing for same-sex couples in landmark ruling. It doesn't say marriages, but most of the time couples are what? Married. You can't play on words, folks. Look, don't throw your rocks and then hide your hens. Just do it.

Vatican said on Monday in a landmark ruling approved by Pope Francis that Roman Catholic Priests can administer blessings (to what Yahweh has cursed) same sex couples (The vast majority of those are married), as long as they are not part of regular church rituals or liturgies. Great! So we're at step two. First they could come to baptisms and be godparents, and now they can be blessed, and if says it right here in the article: A document from the Vatican's doctrinal office, which effectively reversed a declaration that the same body had issued in 2021, said such blessings would not legitimize irregular situations but be a sign that God welcomes all. I love how they call abominations irregular situations but be a sign that God welcomes all. Oh, how loving and kind. This false kindness; this false compassion was the trojan horse that brought wokeness into the Church; this false compassion that God welcomes all.

I want to tell all of you something. The God of the Bible; He does not welcome sin into His Holy Church. Achan tried that; there's a story in the Bible. Achan tried to bring an abomination into the Church of Israel—the camp—and God said, “Kill them all!” Why? He doesn't welcome sin. Quit letting these people lie to you. According to this article, this council reversed an earlier decision. What was the earlier decision? That they would not bless same-sex marriages. No, not going to do it! But here's what happens. Whenever you start down the path of compromise, it's over.

The Roman Catholic Church—and I will give credit where credit is due—for generations has been a voice of morality. Whether they enforced that morality is another subject, but at least publicly, they were a voice of morality. They stood for the consecration of the unborn, traditional marriages; and they have been the preeminent voice, even more so than the Protestant churches, against violating these norms of marriage—holy matrimony. Let me tell you what all of this is about. It is about the destruction of holy matrimony. That's what's coming next. I'm going to say something that a lot of people disagree with, because they're not thinking about it. I do not believe that the state or the government has any business issuing marriage licenses. I've always taught that. And it did not happen in America until they did it for social security purposes.

Before that, marriage licenses were an exclusive ordinance of the Holy Church and we issued marriage certificates, but it had nothing to do with the state. It said that this is a holy matrimony, and it was administered by the Church, not by some Justice of the Peace that has no spiritual authority. It was not done by some nickel knocker Joe blow at the corner that does not have an ordination of the laying on of hands of God's holy presbytery. They gave those certificates until social security came along. So if I was to tell you right now that you need to go down to the courthouse and get a baptism certificate, wouldn't you think that was sort of ludicrous? Or what if I said, "Go down to the courthouse and get a communion certificate."? It's just that stupid to have to get a marriage license from the state, when the Church is the sole authority over marriage.

Let me tell you why they took that power away from the Church. They took it out of our hands because Satan had a plan way back then, to de-legitimize the holiness and the sanctification of marriage. That's why weddings today are hardly ever held in a church anymore. They will hold them anywhere but inside the holy Church. Women do not wear veils anymore at weddings. Why? Because it no longer represents Christ and His failed Church. So the holy Catholic Church held that standard forever! Today they dropped it. The Protestants were even worse, but at least the Catholics were the voice of holy matrimony.

So yes, I don't care what my Catholic friends say. I don't care what they believe, and they want to argue with me, You're wrong and I'm right. You're wrong! You're looking through rose colored glasses and you're wanting to say, Well they didn't say that they could get married. No, here's what they said: "If they are already married, we'll bless their marriage." That's called blessing gay marriage. Someone else tried to make that mistake in the Old Testament. His name was Balaam. He tried to bless what God had cursed, or curse what God had blessed. It didn't turn out too well.

I've come to tell every single one of you watching me tonight, the holy—so called—Roman Catholic Church and her pontificate has said in the past, and I'll pull up the quote for you in a minute if you need me too, the holy Pope said that the Catholic Church are the true semitic people. That was said a thousand years ago by the Catholic Church. What do they mean by that? We, the Church, have replaced the semitic people—the Jewish people. It was in the Catholic Church where antisemitism found its roots. They believed that they were the Church; the new Jew and that the Jew of the natural bloodline had been replaced by the true Jews—the spiritual bloodline of Judaism, or the Jewish people.

I'm not going to get into a Bible study, but the Bible tells us in the book of Revelation that there would be a people in the last days, in the revelation that John was seeing, that would call themselves Jews, but in fact they're not Jews. The Bible said they are the Synagogue of Satan and this church would be so powerful that it would literally be the synagogue where Satan puts on a white robe and carries the title Pontifex maximus, and he would set himself up as the Antichrist in God's Temple: the Third Temple that everyone is waiting for, to be built in Jerusalem. It's so sad to see that every little thing that happens, they think is the Third Temple about to be built. And it hasn't, and it's not going to without World War III. If that happens, Yahshua returns and it doesn't matter anyway.

So while you're looking for that Temple with your carnal reading of the scriptures, you have failed to realize that the Third Temple began to be build 2,000 years ago; a building not built with hands, a building that was started with the chief cornerstone Yahshua Himself, the prophets and the apostles; and Yahshua bringing them together started building the Third Temple. He was the Cornerstone of that temple. We have been building it for 2,000 years and it's almost to completion. The Bible said, When you see the abomination of desolation set himself up in that temple... and then it said, He that have ears, let him hear what the Spirit is saying. In other words, don't read what your eyes are reading. You need the Holy Spirit to hear what the Spirit is trying to warn you about. Carnal people are going to be looking for a Third Temple while totally overlooking the fact that the Third Temple has been inhabited by an Antichrist that sits on a throne getting power from the Beast, which is the Church that he rules over. And what is the Antichrist going to do?

The Bible said he would set himself up as God in that Temple. Today this happened when Pope Francis took and blessed a pig in God's Holy Temple. What we just finished celebrating in Hanukkah was the defeat and resurrection of the Temple after Antiochus Epiphanes brought a pig into the Holy Temple, cut its throat, shed the blood, and desecrated the Temple. Today, Pope Francis brought a pig into the Church and literally blessed what Yahweh calls unclean. Brothers and sisters, he's not the only one. Any church, Protestant or otherwise, that follows his teachings, whether it's his Trinity, whether it's his incarnation, whether it's his whatever; they are all Catholic, no matter what is over their door. Whether they keep his Sabbath on Sunday that he created, they're all bowing down to that pig blood that the Pope has shed today in God's Holy Temple. You can get mad at me; you can hate me, but you can never unhear what you just learned. It's called The Truth.
